AJL holds licence to import 650 tonnes of Silver from DGFT through IIBX. This approval has been received post October 15, 2026. The Group entities engage in the purchase and sale of goods for various strategic reasons. These transactions enable consolidating volumes within the group improving bargaining position, operating efficiency and supports better group level margins. Procurement directly from AMEF removes the intermediary layer between the group's supplier and the group's jewellers, which reduces the cost of procurement. The supplier being a group entity, the group has direct visibility of KYC, source of metal and counterparty information, this substantially mitigates AML risk and strengthens traceability of the supply chain. 6	Justification as to why the RPTs proposed to be entered into are in the interest of the listed entity	Following the DGFT's restrictions on silver imports and the subsequent introduction of a fast-track import authorisation process, eligible silver imports must be procured through IIBX or nominated banks/agencies. ABSPL holds/shall hold the requisite DGFT Import Authorisation and application submitted to IFSCA for Qualified Jeweller. AMEF is onboarded on IIBX as a Qualified Supplier. The Group entities engage in the purchase and sale of goods for various strategic reasons. These transactions enable consolidating volumes within the group improving bargaining position, operating efficiency and supports better group level margins. Procurement directly from AMEF removes the intermediary layer between the group's supplier and the group's jewellers, which reduces the cost of procurement. The supplier being a group entity, the group has direct visibility of KYC, source of metal and counterparty information, this substantially mitigates AML risk and strengthens traceability of the supply chain. The transactions are conducted on a regulated exchange (IIBX) by notified jewellers, under the DGFT permitted framework, which provides transparent price discovery and a documented audit trail. A dependable, in group source of bullion reduces supply disruption risk and dependence on third party suppliers.

6	Justification as to why the RPTs proposed to be entered into are in the interest of the listed entity	Following the DGFT's restrictions on silver imports and the subsequent introduction of a fast-track import authorisation process, eligible silver imports must be procured through IIBX or nominated banks/agencies. ASPL holds/shall hold the requisite DGFT Import Authorisation and application submitted to IFSCA for Qualified Jeweller. AMEF is onboarded on IIBX as a Qualified Supplier. The Group entities engage in the purchase and sale of goods for various strategic reasons. These transactions enable consolidating volumes within the group improving bargaining position, operating efficiency and supports better group level margins. Procurement directly from AMEF removes the intermediary layer between the group's supplier and the group's jewellers, which reduces the cost of procurement. The supplier being a group entity, the group has direct visibility of KYC, source of metal and counterparty information, this substantially mitigates AML risk and strengthens traceability of the supply chain. The transactions are conducted on a regulated exchange (IIBX) by notified jewellers, under the DGFT permitted framework, which provides transparent price discovery and a documented audit trail. A dependable, in group source of bullion reduces supply disruption risk and dependence on third party suppliers.
