World's Best Software Provider for Transaction Banking

eMACH.ai connects a bank's systems, other banks and third parties to deliver seamless corporate journeys across 9 service lines, 12 domain packs and more than 650 ready-to-deploy journeys, serving clients from SMEs to large institutions. This translates into measurable improvements in delivery and scale: at one leading European bank, corporate client onboarding is 70% faster and new-country launches are 65% faster, while Intellect's supply chain finance platform disbursed more than US$25 billion across 1.4 million transactions in 2025.

World's Best Software Provider for Cash Management

Through CBX and the M-AWARE framework, Intellect gives corporate treasurers a consolidated, real-time view of cash across accounts, entities, currencies and banks, enabling them to make informed liquidity decisions and manage their cash positions more effectively. Its liquidity engine, estimated to power 23% of multinational G7-currency sweeps globally, processes US$30 trillion in automated cash sweeps annually, while its virtual accounts capability has been benchmarked at 95 million accounts.

World's Best Software Provider for Risk Management

eMACH.ai Transaction Limits Management (TLM) enables banks to make real-time payment decisions by checking available funds and credit, settlement and exposure limits in a single pass, returning an auditable pay, no-pay or refer decision in under two seconds. At a tier-1 UK bank, TLM delivers instant-payment decisions in under 500 milliseconds while maintaining exposure controls; across a 15-country programme at a major European bank, it has helped reduce end-of-day overdraft positions by 30%, bring limit referrals to under 0.1% of payments and achieve 99.9% straight-through processing.

Connecting Knowledge. Anticipating Change.

As banking becomes increasingly AI-driven, Intellect's MSOCK (Multidimensional Multilayer System of Connected Knowledge) creates an evidence-backed map of a bank's technology estate, connecting business journeys, processes, policies and code to help people and AI understand the impact of change before it happens, and is currently being applied across 141 projects. Complementing this, IndustryFlow brings industry context into the equation, helping banks better understand corporate customers' businesses and operating models to design services around their evolving needs.

Commenting on the wins, Manish Maakan, Executive President & Group Chief Revenue Officer of Intellect Design Arena and Chief Executive Officer of Wholesale Banking, said, "We thank Euromoney and the distinguished jury for this recognition. These awards belong to our customers, colleagues and partners. Banks trust us to help them keep their promises to customers while undertaking the demanding work of modernisation. Bringing cash management, payments and risk control together through eMACH.ai helps us serve that responsibility. As artificial intelligence enters banking, our focus is on connecting knowledge so people and AI can understand the consequences of change before making it. AI should make banks faster. It should never make them less certain. Being recognised by Euromoney as the World's Best raises what our customers should expect of us, and we accept that responsibility with pride."
