'Return 51 cartons': Congress, BJP spar over Nehru's letters

Express News Service
New Delhi, November 14

THE CONGRESS and BJP on Saturday sparred over the ownership of a repository of letters written by former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, on his 137th birth anniversary.

Congress general secretary in-charge of communications, Jairam Ramesh, sought to underline the popularity of Nehru Archive, a digital repository of the 100 volumes of the selected works of Nehru covering the period 1903-1964, having had over 1 million unique visitors and over 4 million page views over the last year since its launch in January 2025.

In response, BJP national spokesperson CR Kesavan, who accused senior Congress leader Sonia Gandhi of "abruptly" taking the letters in May 2008, demanded that it "return the 51 cartons containing Nehru's letters. Failing to do so "will only strengthen the suspicion that the Congress's first family is scared and indeed has something to hide," he said.

Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, Congress leaders Mallikarjun Kharge and Sonia Gandhi during the 137th birth anniversary of India's first PM Jawaharlal Nehru at Samvidhan Sadan on Saturday. PTI

The Indian Express, on December 15, 2025, had first reported that Sonia had assured the Prime Ministers' Museum & Library (PMML) of her cooperation. She, according to sources, had conveyed that "her staff will look into it".

"The volumes run into around 77,000 pages, have 34,000+ text documents and 3000+ images. They are essential to understanding 20th century India through the eyes of someone who so very profoundly shaped it" Ramesh posted on X.

He added that nehruarchive.in is digitally native, smartphone-friendly, easy to search, download(free) and translate; designed for a vast range of internet users, especially the younger generation, it had "evoked great interest across a wide range" including the general public, students and scholars, professional historians and journalists, admirers, sceptics and critics and had been providing "an authentic primary source that is already being put to use for a variety of purposes."

TN Cong slams Karnataka CM's bid to build Mekedatu dam

Express News Service
New Delhi, November 14

THE CONGRESS versus Congress dispute over Cauvery water is out in open as Tamil Nadu Congress president Manickam Tagore on Saturday hit out at Karnataka Chief Minister D K Shivakumar, over the latter's stance on the issue.

"The Karnataka CM continues to adopt a stubborn stance that blatantly violates the SC ruling and the Cauvery Water Disputes Tribunal's final award. This statement, which goes against the principle of federalism and seeks to destroy the livelihoods of Tamil Nadu's farmers, is utterly unacceptable," said Tagore, who is also the Congress whip in the Lok Sabha.

Referring to Karnataka CM's statement that "no one can stop the construction of a dam at Mekedatu", Tagore said that it was "deeply condemnable".

Jaishankar: Bulk of India-US trade deal issues sorted, last stretch of concerns being discussed

Shubhajit Roy
New Delhi, November 14

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS Minister S Jaishankar said on Saturday that India and the US have sorted out the bulk of the issues, including tariff lines, related to the proposed trade deal, which could be sealed "soon" as talks continue to resolve the "last stretch" of concerns.

Speaking at the HT Leadership Summit, Jaishankar said that India's border with China has become "more alive" and requires a much greater commitment of Indian troops on a sustained basis, and pointed to the upgrade in the border infrastructure.

In his first comments on the US mid-term polls, Jaishankar said that there is a bipartisan political "consensus" in the US on the defence, security and technology relationship with India.

He also said that the US-China competition is a "big part" of the global volatility, but added that many other factors are also at play, triggering the overall changes in the global landscape.

Jaishankar's comments come days before Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to meet US President Donald Trump on the sidelines of the ASEAN and East Asia summits in Manila, Philippines, on November 16-17, and Trump is expected to meet Chinese President Xi Jinping and Russian President Vladimir Putin at next week's Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation summit in China's tech hub of Shenzhen. Modi is also expected to visit the US for the G20 leaders' summit on December 14-15.

Jaishankar said trade deal negotiations are approaching the "finishing line", adding that many of the remaining issues are "not so much at our end" and that more changes have occurred on the American side.

"Well, it's certainly our hope, and in many ways anticipation, that we are at the last stretch. That's not a secret," he said, responding to questions on the talks. "For us, the key is that we want a trade deal which is beneficial... balanced and which would give us a comparative advantage over groups of comparable economies. That is really what we are looking for, and that is really our expectation of where we would be when the trade deal is done," he said.

Stating that the US is India's biggest market and a trade deal with it would benefit the country, Jaishankar said, "When you look at this big context and say there is the US, our biggest market in a way, the world's largest economy, obviously having a trade deal with such an economy would benefit us..."

"I think this is not something which could have been done quickly and magically with some sort of bold thinking and rapid movement, because these are very serious issues; people's jobs and people's lives are at stake. If you are serious, you go tariff line by tariff line. That takes time. Now we've done it the painstaking way. Not everybody has had the patience or frankly the understanding to bear with it. But I think having put in that effort, we have now reached almost the finishing line. I think bear with it and hopefully we'll get it," he said.

On the border infrastructure on the India-China border, he said, "Just think about the last few years. How often do you now read — a new tunnel has been built, some new bridge has been built, another airfield has been commissioned. You're getting this news with greater and greater frequency..."

Supriya Sule cites Congress-era delimitation; ally says leave us out of it

Alok Deshpande
Mumbai, November 14

A REFERENCE by NCP (SP) Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule to the 2007 delimitation exercise, carried out when the Congress was in power, has irked the ally, even as she reiterated on Saturday that her party was willing in principle to support the proposed Delimitation Bill.

"The delimitation was carried out in 2007 as well when the Congress was power. It isn't a new exercise. For example, even the Baramati constituency represented by Pawar saheb (Sharad Pawar) before 2007 was different than what I have been representing since 2009 after Delimitation," said Sule.

The Congress objected. "If Supriya Sule wants to support delimitation (the Delimitation Bill), she is welcome to do so; however, she should not put forward the Congress party's name," said Congress Legislative Party leader Vijay Wadettiwar.

Wadettiwar added that when the Congress carried out delimitation, it only changed reserved constituencies. It neither increased the number of constituencies nor divided them for convenience, he said.

Sule said the NCP (SP) could support the Bill if every state gets a uniform 50 per cent rise in its number of Lok Sabha seats, and the increase is not based on population.

She was referring to a meeting the Union government called in July to discuss a delimitation Bill, where a uniform 50 per cent increase in seats across all states, irrespective of their populations, was proposed. Sule attended it along with Arvind Sawant of the Shiv Sena (UBT) and AIMIM's Asaduddin Owaisi.

"In principle, the ruling party's proposal was acceptable to us because it would not do injustice to any state. The number of Lok Sabha seats in every state was proposed to be increased by a flat 50 per cent. Therefore, as a representative of my party, I agreed to the proposal in principle. Shiv Sena (UBT) MP Arvind Sawant and a few other leaders who attended the meeting sought time to discuss it with their respective party leaderships," Sule said.

"We were comfortable with the proposal and also wanted to discuss it with our INDIA bloc partners to build a consensus. If everyone agrees, we are ready to support it. However, the NCP-SP, as an individual party, has not taken a final decision because we have not received the official bill or its copy," she said.

Congress stir against corruption after panchayat polls: Dotasra

Jaipur: Accusing the Rajasthan government of rampant corruption and misgovernance, state Congress president Govind Singh Dotasra on Saturday announced a major public agitation against it after the panchayat elections. Addressing the media at the party headquarters in Jaipur, Dotasra alleged irregularities in the midday meal scheme, shortage of teachers in schools, and lack of recruitment in government departments. He said the law and order situation has deteriorated and people are distressed under the BJP government. PTI

Gehlot targets govt over Jal Jeevan Mission, alleges failure

Press Trust of India
Jaipur, November 14

FORMER RAJASTHAN chief minister Ashok Gehlot on Saturday accused the BJP government of failing to fulfil its Jal Jeevan Mission commitments, alleging that it could not provide even 13 lakh tap connections against a target of 45 lakh announced in two budgets.

"People are waiting for water and contractors for payments," Gehlot said.

The Congress leader released the first episode of his social media video series 'Budget Files', highlighting what he termed the gap between the BJP government's budget announcements and their implementation.

Questioning Chief Minister Bhajan Lal Sharma's repeated comparison of two years of his government with five years of the previous Congress regime, Gehlot said the BJP had failed to match the tap connections provided by his Congress government in a single year.

Citing official figures, he claimed that his erstwhile government provided tap connections to 13.88 lakh households in 2022-23 alone, while the BJP government's cumulative count over three financial years was lower.

He questioned the government over the pending target of 45 lakh connections, the deadline for fulfilling its promise of tap water to every household by 2025, and the timeline for clearing contractors' dues.

Jaipur, November 14

Polling in the first three phases was held on October 22, October 28 and November 3

THE FOURTH and final phase of Rajasthan panchayat elections for zila parishad and panchayat samiti members concluded on Saturday, even as reports of glitches in electronic voting machines (EVMs) emerged in some areas, officials said.

Polling across 25 districts began at 7 am, with voter turnout at 70.95 per cent recorded till 6 pm. It had been 39.15 per cent till 1 pm, according to the State Election Commission.

Chhoti Sadwa panchayat samiti in Banswara recorded the highest turnout at 89.03 per cent, while Masuda in Beawar registered the lowest at 54.69 per cent.

The final phase covered 2,524 seats, with 8,843 candidates in the fray, including 1,322 contesting 382 zila parishad wards and 7,521 contesting 2,142 panchayat samiti wards, according to the poll panel.

Sri Ganganagar had the highest number of zila parishad wards going to polls in this phase. Reports of delays due to electronic voting machine (EVM) glitches emerged from several places, while voters in some areas announced boycotts over local demands.

The final phase covered Balotra, Baran, Beawar, Bharatpur, Bikaner, Chittorgarh, Deeg, Dholpur, Hanumangarh, Jalore, Jhunjhunu, Karauli, Khairthal-Tijara, Pratapgarh, Sawai Madhopur, Salumbar, Sikar and Tonk, among other districts.

Polling in the first three phases was held on October 22, October 28 and November 3.

Counting of votes for all four phases will take place on November 20, followed by elections for zila parishad chiefs and panchayat samiti heads.

Physical education teacher on panchayat polls duty found dead

Press Trust of India
Kota, November 14

A 27-YEAR-OLD man deputed on election duty in Bundi district was found dead on Saturday morning, the day of the fourth and final phase of panchayat polls, officials said.

Bablu Lal Gochar, a physical education teacher (PET) at a government school, was serving as a polling officer at Khiniya polling booth under Basoli police station.

According to officials, Gochar, a resident of Nandgaon village, had complained of dizziness on Friday evening after joining his team at the polling booth.

Gochar did not ask for medical assistance and went to sleep that night. The next morning, he showed no response when fellow staff tried to wake him, they added.

The staff immediately alerted local authorities, prompting the administration to establish a green corridor to rush the unresponsive teacher to the Bundi District Hospital.

After reaching the hospital, the physicians declared him dead on arrival, officials said.

Senior civil and police officers rushed to the district hospital to monitor the situation and coordinate administrative protocols, leading to the deployment of police forces from the Kotwali and Sadar police stations to maintain order.

Speaking to the press at Bundi hospital, Sub Divisional Magistrate Lakshmikant Meena said preliminary findings did not establish a definitive cause of death, adding that the underlying reason would emerge once the post-mortem report was complete.

He added that the deceased's family has not suspected any foul play so far.

Basoli's Station House Officer Sandeep Vishnoi said Gochar was unwell for some time.

"On deterioration of his condition, a green corridor was established immediately, and he was rushed to Bundi district hospital, where doctors, already alert, declared him dead," he added.

Vishnoi said they are waiting for the postmortem report to determine the cause of his death, adding that the body was handed over to family members. Gochar joined the government job in 2022.

आचार्यश्री ने चातुर्मास समिति के अध्यक्ष प्रवीण चौधरी को किया समाजरत्न से अलंकृत
