CATEGORY	MARKET, ₹ '000 CR FY25 → FY30P	CAGR FY25–30P	UNORGANISED SHARE, FY25
Ready-mix concrete	124 → 374	24.7%	85%
Why: most concrete is still mixed on site with cheap labour and little capex. RMC is only 26–28% of cement use in India vs 72–74% in the US; labour shortages, tighter sites and quality needs are expected to take it to 47–49% by 2029.
Aggregates	234 → 360	9.0%	90%
Why: supplied by small local quarries and sold through retail to small contractors. Bulk buying by large contractors, stricter quality rules and the shift to manufactured sand favour organised suppliers (organised share 7% in FY20 → 16% by FY30P).
AAC blocks	7.9 → 18.2	18.0%	61%
Why: red clay bricks still dominate walling. AAC is only 9.6% of the brick market, expected to reach 24% by 2029, helped by faster construction, energy codes (ECBC, IGBC, GRIHA) and BIS standards.

EBITDA MARGIN TRAJECTORY

WHAT IS WORKING

- Mix-led margins — private label and owned manufacturing lift EBITDA quality; 8.6% in FY26 (audited).
- Cash generation — operating cash flow up 50% to ₹773 cr in FY26 as capex stepped down 47%; 88% cash conversion in H1 FY27.
- Paints turnaround — Shalimar EBITDA positive in Q4 FY26.

WHAT WE ARE EXECUTING

- Finance cost — ₹492 cr in H1 FY27 (+5%); deleveraging from EBITDA growth.
- Receivables — reversing the FY26 rise to 130 debtor days.
- Distribution — replacing low-margin revenue with higher-quality growth.

FY24–FY26 audited. H1 FY27 unaudited, limited-reviewed consolidated results approved by the Board on 5 November 2026; H1 FY26 not subject to limited review. EBITDA excludes other income. *ROCE annualised; capital employed at 30 September 2026.

CASH CONVERSION · H1 FY27

of EBITDA came back as operating cash — ₹767 cr against ₹868 cr of EBITDA, up from 45% in FY26.

Why ROCE is low today — and why it inflects

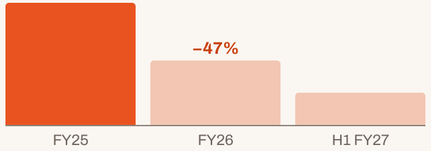

ROCE dipped through FY25 as capital employed rose 13.9×, from ₹982 cr to ₹13,603 cr (FY21–FY26) — not only from building capacity but also from acquisitions, including plants in MDF and tiles and companies such as Shalimar Paints and RDC Concrete, which added substantial goodwill. These assets are not yet at full utilisation. The build phase is behind us: ROCE turned up in FY26 and, as these assets ramp up, is expected to rise without new capital.

ROCE

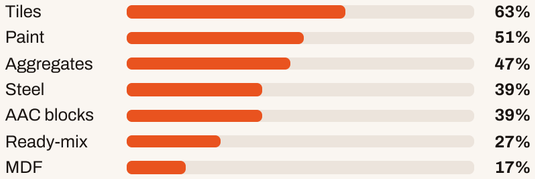

ROCE dipped as capital went into capacity and acquisitions, including goodwill, ahead of returns; it turned up in FY26 as assets began to earn.

CAPEX

47% lower capex in FY26 than FY25 — the harvest phase begins; H1 FY27 holds that run-rate.

CAPACITY UTILISATION · FY25

Most plants run well below optimum. Growth now comes from filling existing capacity — so ROCE rises without new capital. A concrete plant earns ~₹3.7 cr CM on a ₹5–6 cr build — a 12–18 month payback.

Working capital steady at ~93 days

Debtors 134, inventory 29, payables 70 — broadly unchanged from FY26. Payables more than funded the receivables build, so no fresh working capital went into the business.

Finance cost contained

Up 5% to ₹492 cr in H1 FY27 (vs +19% in FY26), with borrowings flat at ₹5,873 cr. Refinancing at lower cost is the next lever.

Leverage still falling

Net debt / equity at 0.66×, down from 1.16× at the FY24 peak, as equity grows and borrowings stay flat.

Receivables, the lever to watch

₹7,556 cr at 30 Sep 2026. Bringing debtor days down turns strong conversion into structural free cash flow.

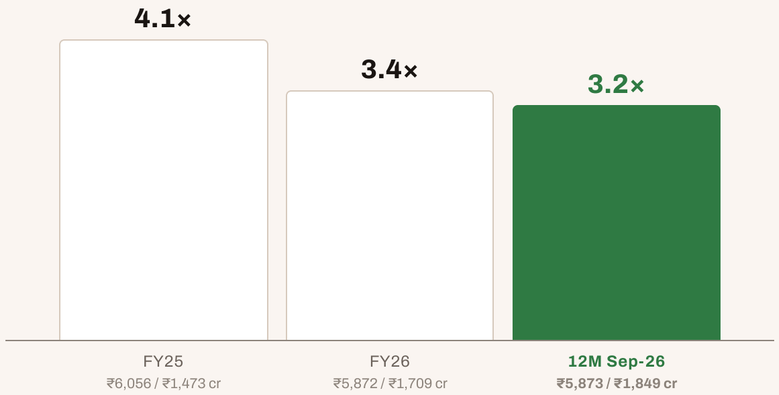

FY24–FY26 audited; H1 FY27 unaudited, limited-reviewed. *Annualised. Working-capital days for H1 FY27 annualised (debtor days on revenue; inventory and payable days on cost of goods sold). Capacity utilisation for FY25 per the Company's draft red herring prospectus (owned and exclusive plants). Plant economics per management estimates.

Pro forma group position: Infra.Market consolidated, which already consolidates Shalimar Paints. FY25–FY26 audited; H1 FY27 limited-reviewed. Debt / EBITDA uses total borrowings at the period end; EBITDA for the 12 months to 30 September 2026 is derived (FY26 ₹1,709 cr, less H1 FY26 ₹728 cr, plus H1 FY27 ₹868 cr). Net debt is borrowings net of cash, bank balances and current investments. EBITDA excludes other income. Lender categories are representative of the group's lender base.
